I. Fiscal 2019 Results and Fiscal 2020 Forecasts

1. Fiscal 2019 Results

- ▶ Net sales was higher due to effects from wheat flour price revisions accompanying revised wheat prices, and progress on large-scale construction projects in the engineering business.
- ▶ Operating profit was lower due to higher strategic costs, including for enhancing human resources, R&D, more robust advertising and promotions, and expenses related to the purchase of Allied Pinnacle Pty Ltd., coupled with a decrease in the US flour milling business resulting from intense competition. The decline came despite growth in shipments of raw materials for pharmaceuticals to the US and favorable progress on construction projects for large-scale facilities.

7. Expanding Demand for Raw Material for Pharmaceuticals “EPA-E” from Nisshin Pharma

- In March, Amarin Corporation plc (Amarin) submitted an application for FDA approval of an additional indication for high cholesterol treatment “Vascepa”
- To meet increased demand likely for “EPA-E,” a pharmaceutical raw material, the Group is preparing to bolster its capabilities

- “Vascepa” has been approved as a treatment for patients diagnosed with severe hypertriglyceridemia, or levels of neutral fat in the bloodstream higher than 500 mg/dl (about 3.8 million people in the US)
- In clinical trials, Amarin found that patients with mild cases of high cholesterol who took “Vascepa” together with commonly prescribed statins for lowering cholesterol had a 25% lower risk of heart attack, heart failure and other cardiovascular events. These results prompted filing of an application for an additional indication in March 2019
- If the additional indication for lowering the risk of cardiovascular events among statin users in the US with mild high cholesterol (approx. 38 million people) is approved, the number of applicable patients will rise dramatically, with significant business growth anticipated
- Amarin is boosting its salesforce from 150 to 400 agents, while also entering licensing agreements for the development and sale of “Vascepa” with partners in Canada, the Middle East and China. Amarin plans to apply for approval in Europe in 2019, which should lead to growth in demand beyond the US going forward

Future Schedule

Action	Approval of additional indication
Application to FDA for additional indication	Application filed March 2019
Approval of additional indication	Near end of Jan. 2020*

* Amarin has publicly stated that while the FDA application screening period is normally 10 months, expedited cases are also possible.

1. International Trade Negotiations (2)

– Our Perspective

健康と信頼をお届けする

日清製粉グループ

Our Perspective on International Trade Negotiations

Wheat is used as an ingredient in an array of food products. Considering the impact on wheat producers, the flour milling industry, the food product industry and consumers at all stages, consistency in import control mechanisms pertaining to wheat and wheat-related products is essential.

In particular, US withdrawal from the TPP resulted in no markup reduction for US-produced wheat. There is concern that in response to this, wheat price imbalances based on country of origin or class could trigger market turmoil. To avoid this, the markup for US wheat must be reduced by the same amount as wheat produced in Canada and Australia.

Nisshin Seifun Group Response

(1) We continue to enact measures to strengthen cost competitiveness to win out against overseas flour milling companies and imports even if tariffs and other border control mechanisms are lowered.

(2) It is critical that we continue to maintain business basis in Japan, to stably supply customers with safe, reliable wheat products. To this end, we will petition the government to lower markups in order to avoid any potential damage to the flour milling and food product industries.

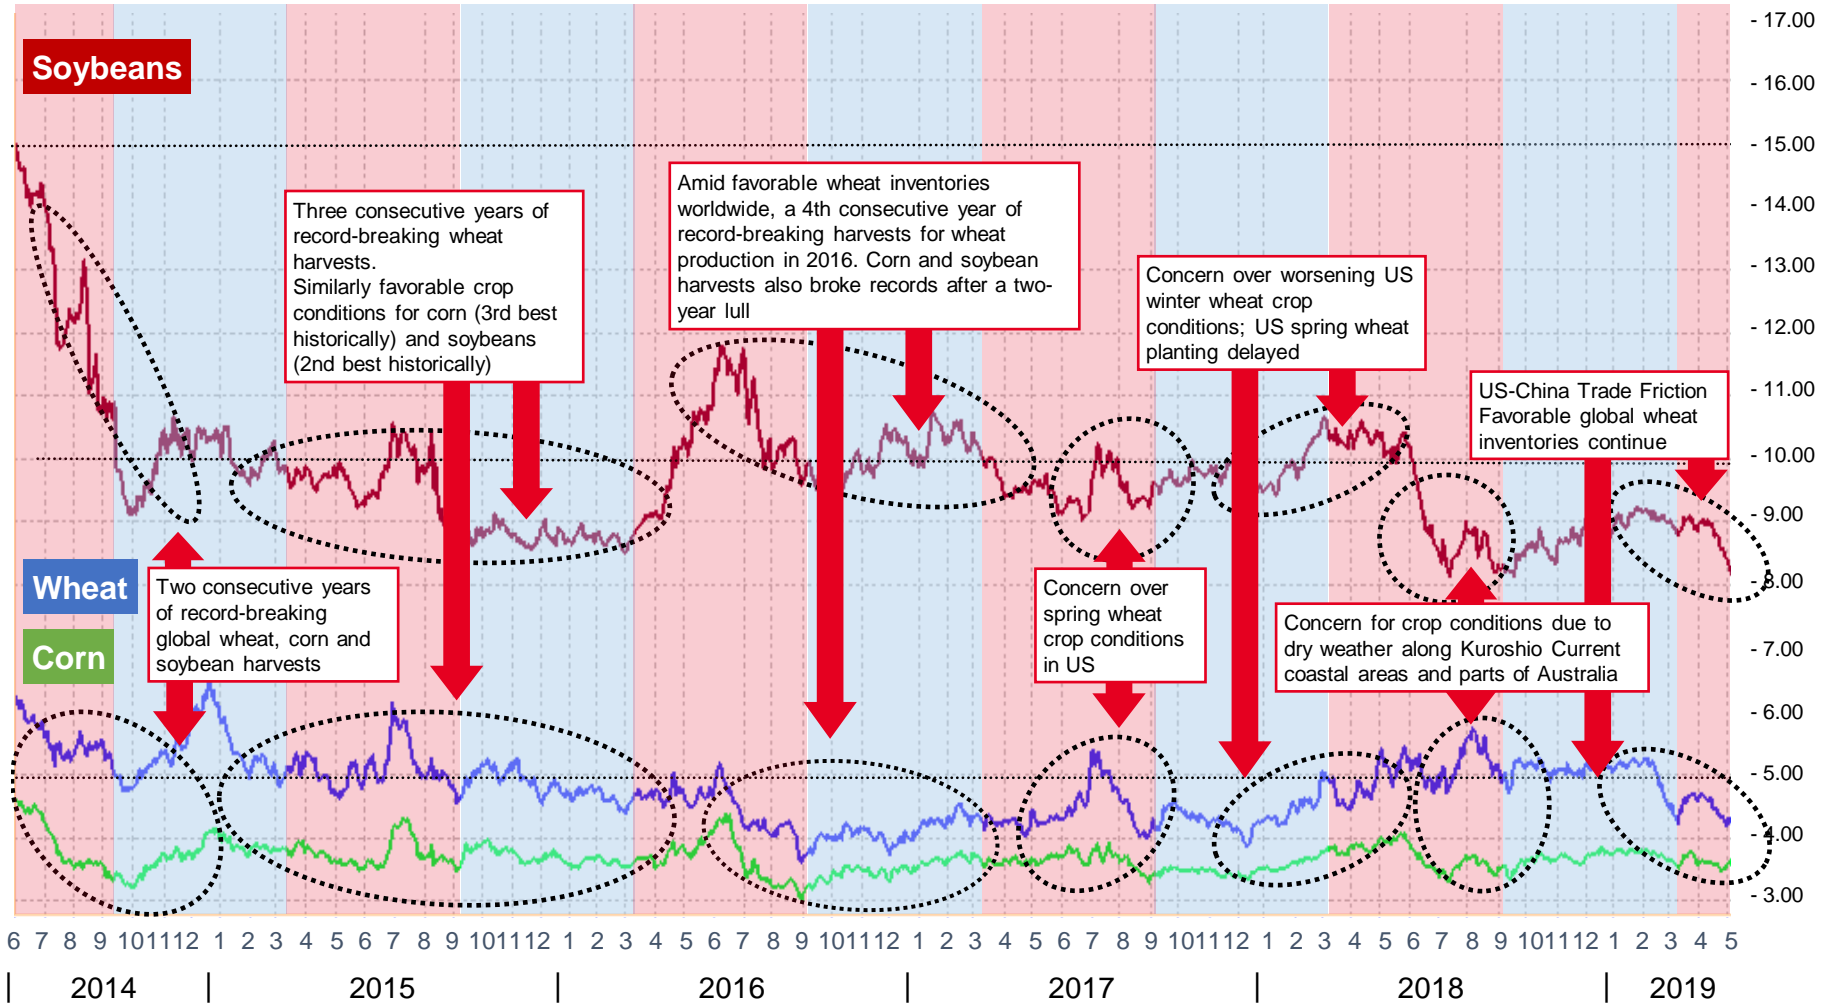

The first round of meetings for the Trade Agreement on Goods (TAG) was held in the US in April 2019. Agreement was reached to expedite negotiations at a high-level summit that took place the same month. With several news outlets reporting hopes for a general agreement by this summer, we are paying close attention to these developments.

[April 2019 – Wheat Price Revision] (Period for price revision calculation: 2nd week of Sep. 2018 - 1st week of March 2019)

- While the wheat market (Chicago) expected a decline in revenues, tracking dry weather in the EU and Australia, no major volatility occurred thanks largely to upwardly revised production forecasts for Russia. Nevertheless, wheat import prices declined on lower ocean freight rates, which were affected by fuel oil prices.

April 1, 2019 – Japanese govt. lowers sales prices for five classes of imported wheat by an average of 1.7%

July 10, 2019 – Nisshin Flour Milling Inc. lowers commercial wheat flour prices

[Factors Driving Future Wheat Market Changes]

Price-increasing Factors

- Return to US products by China to meet grain demand
(Pending direction of US-China trade talks)
- Concern of reduced planting area in US following 2019 delay in spring wheat planting

Price-decreasing Factors

- While production volume and inventories will decline slightly from the previous year, global wheat inventories expected to remain favorable
- Favorable crop conditions likely to accompany steady growth in US winter wheat for production in 2019
